CONCLAVE . . . from the Point of View of an ALUMNUS

IT WAS with mingled surprise and dismay that I learned some weeks ago that Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity was going to hold its national convention in Cleveland next September 2, 3, 4. When the news item came across the desk in the usual routine from the Convention Bureau, it failed to register with me. There were announcements of six or seven other conventions in the same envelope and that part of my mind (if it can be called that) which is set apart for noting future events made a little memo which said, "Hmm. Half dozen more conventions. This summer is going to be as bad or worse than last."

Then suddenly it dawned upon me that here was a convention which was not just one of the 3,967 conventions which have been coming to Cleveland in the last year or two, especially since the Great Lakes Exposition got going. I even muttered under my breath, "Migod, it looks as if I'll have to attend this convention."

I could just about picture what it will be like. A couple of hundred good-looking, well dressed collegians, rarin' to go, curious about what kind of gals the committee will furnish them to dance with, spending most of their time in the delightful outdoor cafes of the Streets of the World on the banks of Lake Erie; a couple of dozen serious, hard-working fraternity officers, puzzling over finances and scholarship; the local alumni, heaving and tugging at dress suits long since too small; the local alumni wives, chauffeuring the ladies of the visiting elks about and telephoning madly for college gals for blind dates for the delegates.

My first reaction to all conventions is invariably an unfavorable one. They have caused me too much trouble as a reporter and city editor for me to rise up and cheer. There is usually little general news in them, and the officials are hard to find and not always helpful. A big convention like the Republican or Democratic national, is just a headache, and a convention like Dr. Townsend or Father Coughlin's, where the delegates are generally axe-grinders and very contentious, are super-headaches. A convention like the American Legion is something I habitually flee from. (In fact, last summer, I took a two-months vacation and went as far away as Europe, just to escape from it.)

But in spite of all that, I got to musing about this Sig Ep convention. As Ed Wynn would say, "This is going to be different, Graham." Maybe some of the old gang we

REGISTRATION CONTEST

MAN MILE

THE Conclave Committee will award a handsome cup to the chapter registering the greatest number of men and miles at the Great Lakes Conclave, Hotel Cleveland, September 2, 3, 4.

Both active and alumni registrants will be counted.

Example: One man travelling 100 miles to Cleveland equals two men who travel 50 miles each.

Chapters, active and alumni, are urged to get busy on their membership now.

Help the Conclave Committee by registering early.

used to eat, sleep and fight with in college would turn up. Maybe I'd see that crusty old horse doctor from Kansas, or that scholarly Englishman now resident somewhere in New York State. Maybe that so-and-so they called a clarinet player, with whom I used to room, would bestir himself and come up. What ever happened to the guy whose trunk we nailed to the floor just before Christmas vacation one year, or the bird who was always sneaking a little lunch in the kitchen of an evening and on whom we dumped a kitten down a clotheschute? . . . What ever happened . . . is he married or divorced . . . any kids . . . is he fat or his hair gray? . . .

Here, Porter, I said to myself, you'll have to cut this out. You can't get any work done that way. Before you know it, you'll be attending the darned convention yourself, or even serving on a committee, something you haven't done since you were cured by serving on practically every committee and belonging to every organization in the university (ya big sap).

And so it goes. I'm not a habitual alumnus, and in that I'm like a lot of the crowd who used to refer to themselves as "the boys" but are now only too obviously getting middle-aged. I don't attend meetings regularly; I'm not a lawyer, a doctor, an insurance man. I don't have anything to sell. I'm usually preoccupied with my own affairs.

That's all wrong, I'm sure, because every time I go to an annual banquet, or when Billy Phillips comes to town and I see some of the brethren in a group again, I have a swell time reminiscing.

It's all wrong to go so seldom to the fraternity house at Ohio State, too. After all, we built it and christened it. I've found that on the rare occasions when I've taken the time to get acquainted with the current generation of Sig Eps that they're just as decent a breed, and generally a lot smarter than we were at that age. But it takes time to get acquainted and that's what so few of us have any more. What this country needs is not a good 5-cent cigar but a thirty hour day.

That's what will be the nice thing about this convention. It will give a lot of us a chance to get caught up on what the present generation of fraternity men is thinking about. We'll see a picture of the thing nationally. And best of all, we'll see a lot (we hope) of the old timers whose presence we have missed for many years. Cleveland is such a centrally located city. Maybe they'll take the trouble to drive up.

You'll like the Great Lakes Expo. It's a first rate show, and I'm not just being civic in saying that. You'll also like Cleveland in the summer, for there's no better summer-long climate in the country. You can have the winters, but I never leave here in the summer, if I can avoid it. There's always a breeze. The opportunities for sightseeing are good. . . . But let the Chamber of Commerce and the committee tell all that.

The mountain is coming to Mahomet so we might as well clear off a space for it.

Entertainment Chairman Chalmer Lutz Announces

“UMMPH”

... to be featured at Great Lakes Conclave

EVER SINCE the Great Lakes Conclave was announced there has been a persistent and consistent demand from near and far for a more detailed statement of the entertainment plans. From chapters located in the wintry climate of California to those situated in the milder breezes of Maine have come requests such as these: “Is it true that the Cleveland girls are more beautiful than those of any other section of the country?” “Is Lake Erie one of the finest places to swim in the world” “Do your dance bands really ‘swing’ it?” “What is this thing which we call ‘ummph!’ you inquire.”

It will be the province of this article to answer once and for all, individually and collectively, these queries which may be lurking in your respective brains. And in presenting the picture to you let it be said at the outset that it would be the easiest thing in the world to launch into a barrage of superlatives such as would make even the wildest Hollywood press-agent blanche with envy. It will be our purpose, however, to confine these remarks within the reasonable bounds of certainty, but knowing the plans as we do, you must realize that it is with extreme forbearance that we keep ourselves from bursting into syllabuci frothamenti at the slightest touch of the imagination.

LUTZ

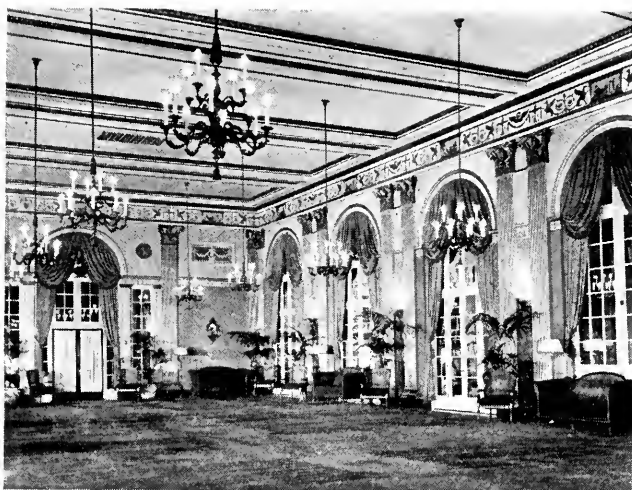

The Date Bureau

London may have it's Bourke Cochran; New York have it's Earl Carroll; but the Great Lakes Conclave will have the one and only Omar (ajugofwineandthou) MacDowell in charge of this very important phase of Conclave activity. To those of you who are acquainted with his discriminating taste of feminine delectability his name is sufficient. For those who have yet to make the acquaintance of this promoter of pulchritude we will only say he is a Southern gentleman, Sig Ep scholar, and judge of good “ummph.”

“Ummph,” says Oscar Zilch “is that quality in the female of the species which when he is lucky enough to come into it's presence, makes the man of fifty wish for his second childhood; makes the man of ninety long for seventy again; and makes the Sig Ep collegian develop an acute case of triple-agitator goose-pimples.”

And it is this very quality, you may be sure, which will typify the girls who are lucky enough to be selected by our Date Bureau Chairman for delegates who come to the Conclave unescorted, or to put it another way, who are for the moment at least, “footloose and fancy-free.” This is by no manner or means, however, an invitation or challenge to alumni delegates to leave their wives at home; we welcome the wives (may Heaven protect their husbands), and more will be said a little further along of the plans for the entertainment of the wives.

What we want each delegate to know and believe is that whether you draw Eleanor Holm Jarrett, or any other one of the five hundred dee-lovlies for your date, you may be assured that a delightful occasion is in store for you. If feminine loveliness makes any impression whatsoever on your blood-pressure make a note right now that September 2, 3, and 4 will be exciting days for such red blood corpuscles as may be coursing through your veins on those dates.

The Banquet

Amongst every group of Sigma Phi Epsilon alumni there is one at least who may be placed in that select part of the human race known as gourmets, and it is the extreme good fortune of this Committee to announce that here in Cleveland Brother George Darmstatter qualifies as our representative in that particular sect. For years he has been entertaining the local alumni members with his annual Clam Bakes, hence it is most fitting and proper that he should be in charge of the grand banquet.

Ever since his appointment as Chairman of this feature of the Conclave he has been making sly little excursions into the various "nationality" sections of the city with the sole thought in mind of picking up new ideas on culinary operations, different recipes from many lands, all of which will be incorporated in our Conclave Banquet. From "Little Budapest" he has found a "grosse wienerschnitzel" which will amaze you; in the On Leon Tong Temple down in Chinatown Brother George has obtained a concoction of Egg Foo Young which will make you take the next boat for China.

In short, our discriminating brother has garnered toothsome viands from the four corners of the earth which will be assembled in taste-tingling array for your approval. Verily brothers, your appetites will jump for joy; as the heart pants for water, so will your stomachs pant for the well-filled trenchers of food set before you on this momentous night in the history of gastronic and dietetic accomplishment.

The scene of this glittering event will be beautiful "Sale de Ballet" in the Hotel Cleveland. Picture for yourself if you will, the evening of September 4. The sun is dying in the west, Lake Erie is a sea of gold. Lights begin to twinkle here and yon; distinguished Sigma Phi Epsilon guests are assembling in spotless white and dashing tails, it is the climax of the greatest Conclave. In the grand ballroom of Hotel Cleveland waiters are dashing about making last-minute arrangements, a bouquet of flowers here, a shining service of linen there. Presently a dazzling shower of mirrored lights shines out, the music flares forth and you find yourself in the midst of a most distinguished gathering of personages. It will be a happy crowd, brothers, and if you leave yourself out of that picture you are deliberately passing up a great fraternal experience.

The Informal Dance

In planning the Informal Dance it is your chairman's opinion that this event will be an evening of unusual and rare entertainment. As scheduled, the first day September 2, has been designated "Sig Ep" Day at the

YOU, as A Sigma Phi Epsilon, are guilty of misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance, or what have you if you neglect to register right now for the Great Lakes Conclave. To support this statement we offer the following exhibits:

EXHIBIT A. Elsewhere among these pages you will find pictured some of the young ladies who have consented to assist us in entertaining Conclave visitors. Date Chairman McDowell has been positively brutal in eliminating all but the most beautiful and charming young ladies of Greater Cleveland.

EXHIBIT B. There will be new features such as the presentation of the ten outstanding undergraduate Sig Eps, the Interfraternity Luncheon, and your introduction to the first of our new District Governors.

EXHIBIT C. The Memorial Candle Service will permit you to honor those who have left us, while the ritualistic work will offer an opportunity for you to renew your fraternal vows.

EXHIBIT D. There will be more Sig Eps here than were ever assembled in one place at one time. The opportunity to meet the members and our leaders is without parallel in our history.

EXHIBIT E. Entertainment Chairman Lutz has outlined a few of his plans in this issue. Cold print does not do justice to his program, nor has the limitation of space permitted him to tell you all. Lutz does not pass many idle words—if he says you will be entertained, you can count on being entertained royally.

EXHIBIT F. The Hotel Cleveland, one of the finest in the country, is ours. It is convenient. It adjoins the Union Terminal, is across the street from the bus depot, is at the downtown termini of all car lines, and is centrally located on the Public Square. Its facilities are more than adequate for our social and business functions. The coöperative spirit of its management is indicated by the fact that they have set aside twelve committee meeting rooms for our exclusive use, just outside the door of our main meeting room.

EXHIBIT G. The cost will be low. The hotel has reserved a block of rooms sufficient to accommodate everyone at $2.50 per person or less. The ten dollar registration fee will cover the cost of the banquet, the dances, and the other functions outlined by Lutz.

If these exhibits and the various articles in this and the previous issue of the JOURNAL have not convinced you that you will not "to thine own self be true" if you miss THE GREAT LAKES CONCLAVE, please let us know. We still have a lot of reasons why you should be in Cleveland next September 2, 3, and 4 that have not yet been mentioned.

Chattanooga made us forget that there was a depression.

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

THE LADIES' COMMITTEE
For Great Lakes Conclave (Introductions in Cleveland)

Conclave and the Ladies

THE LADIES do everything else and go everywhere else that their husbands and sweethearts go and do—from the polling booth to the barber shop. The Conclave Committee and especially the Cleveland mothers, wives, and sweethearts of Sig Eps are insistent that there should be no difference in the case of the Great Lakes Conclave. In fact they have vowed that not only must the ladies be present in greater numbers than ever before, but that the men-folk must give them proportionately more time and attention than ever. And they have set about achieving both of these ends in ways known only to women!

The Cleveland Ladies convened in secret session at the Hotel Cleveland for what they called a Bridge Tea on St. Patrick's Day, and on April 17 they sponsored a dance at the Park Lane Villa; another blind for secret connivance as to ways and means of achieving their two goals: Every Sig Ep Wife and Sweetheart at the Conclave with her man; the biggest time of a life-time after she gets there.

The Cleveland ladies haven't divulged their full strategy as yet. Only a few suggestions have leaked out.

Their first query to the Conclave Committee, and a smart one, was as to whether there would be any additional Registration Fee for the men who brought their wives and sweethearts? The Answer was NO.

With that assurance they then let it be known that, among other things, the ladies would attend the Opening Conclave Session Thursday morning, a Bridge Tea and Style Show Thursday afternoon and escort the men to Billy Rose's Aquacade and the Informal Dance aboard the Show Boat which follows the Aquacade performance Thursday night.

They talk of a sightseeing tour for Friday afternoon and, of course, the major part which the ladies will play at the Formal Dance on Friday night.

Saturday afternoon will find the ladies on a conducted shopping tour and in the evening they'll hie themselves to a theatre party.

To be sure this is not all that the ladies will do. It's a mere outline to show the ladies that they should come to the Great Lakes Conclave and to assure them that once they get there they will not be relegated to stay in a Hotel Room, but will assume their accustomed place—a dominant one!

Introducing . . .

DISTRICT GOVERNORS

Reorganization of the fraternity's administration set-up has progressed to the extent that it is now possible to introduce the first ten District Governors. They are: top row, left to right—W. F. Hanks, North Carolina Beta, District V; X. R. Gill, Colorado Alpha, District XIV; Neal Miley, Minnesota Alpha, District XI. Center row—Earle W. Frost, Kansas Beta, District XIII; Charles R. Patch, Colorado Alpha, District XV; Huber C. Hurst, Florida Alpha, District VI; W. E. Jones, Tennessee Alpha, District VIII. Bottom row—Robert L. Ryan, California Alpha, District XVIII; Benjamin R. Council, Virginia Alpha, District IV; Jack C. Conreux, Missouri Beta, District XII.

TEN DISTRICT GOVERNORS

THE FORMIDABLE task which is the reorganization of the fraternity's administrative set-up in such wise as to incorporate in it the innovation involved in the inauguration of the thoroughgoing District Governor Plan outlined in the February JOURNAL has been sufficiently carried out to make possible the introduction, at this time, of the first ten District Governors; subsequent appointments to be announced in future issues of the JOURNAL.

The proponents of the District Governor Plan are convinced that the future growth and development of the fraternity will be determined in large part by the measure of success accompanying the efforts of these men and those who are to join them as leaders in their several districts. If general calibre is to be taken as a criterion; if undergraduate and then professional and business achievement is to serve as a basis of prognostication; or if undergraduate and alumni zeal for Sigma Phi Epsilon is to serve as a basis for forecasts of both their effort and achievement the proponents of the District Governor Plan and Sig Eps generally will find in the past records of these gentlemen that on which to base confidence as to their future exertions in behalf of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Each of the Governors has insisted, with the modesty that becomes a gentleman, that there were others in his district who were more capable of fulfilling the trust, more worthy of the honor involved in appointment to the District Governorship than he was. That there are a great number of men in each district who are equally capable, I am quite sure. That there are many, if any, men who are more worthy than these, I doubt very really.

It is, therefore, with a sense of pride, of gratification, of assurance that I present to Sigma Phi Epsilon its first ten District Governors.

DELTA DISTRICT, NO. 4

Virginia Alpha, Virginia Delta, Virginia Epsilon, Virginia Zeta, Virginia Eta, District of Columbia Alpha

Governor Benjamin Redwood Councill,
Virginia Alpha, '36

YOUNGEST of all the Governors is Delta District's leader Redwood Councill who received his B.A. degree from the University of Richmond only last year.

Redwood's was a busy undergraduate life. He was a member of the tennis team, president of the Richmond College Social Science Society, vice-chairman of the Honor Council, a member of the Interfraternity Council, the Interfraternity dance committee, the Harlequin club, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

He served his chapter first as Historian and then as President.

With graduation he returned to his home at Holland, Virginia, to assume the vice-presidency and general managership of the family firm of B. W. Councill and Son which firm name, to those who know, means the Virginia ham and peanuts, for which the area surrounding Holland is nationally famous.

Like most Virginians he likes to ride and to fish. Next to those sports he prefers tennis and bowling. He is currently engaged in organizing an alumni group in the Holland area.

EPSILON DISTRICT, NO. 5

North Carolina Beta, North Carolina Gamma, North Carolina Delta, North Carolina Epsilon, South Carolina Alpha

Governor William Franklin Hanks, North Carolina Beta, '33

IT WOULD SEEM that wherever, anywhere in his area, there is an aggregation of people, there will be found North Carolina Beta's William Franklin ("Tubby") Hanks. And immediately that combination is achieved Tubby, master organizer that he is, begins to organize the people for some purpose. It may be for a Football club, for the Lions club, for the State College Alumni Association of which he is secretary-treasurer, for a Sig Ep Alumni Chapter Association—he was prime mover in the formation of the young and thriving Charlotte alumni group. But whatever be the case, organize them he will and to good purpose.

"Tubby" was an undergraduate power on the State campus. He was vice-president of the freshman class, secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class, president of the Interfraternity Council and delegate to the National Undergraduate Interfraternity Conference, a member of Red Masquers, White Spades, Order of 30 and 3, Collegiate Comedians, Social Functions committee, Junior Prom committee, and senior ring committee.

He served his chapter as pledge president, rushing chairman, guard, president, and delegate to the Chattanooga Conclave. Always and always he was the chapter's political strategist.

With graduation in 1933 he was employed first by the J. R. Pointer Cigar Co., of Raleigh, and then affiliated himself with the Hospital Care Association, Inc., for which he is District Manager, located in Charlotte.

Governor Hanks married Sarah Hart Rand in June 1933. Prospective Sig Ep William Franklin Hanks, Jr., is being groomed to carry on the Sig Ep tradition in the family.

ZETA DISTRICT, NO. 6

Georgia Alpha, Florida Alpha, Alabama Alpha

Governor Huber Christian Hurst, Florida Alpha, '27

WHAT AMOUNTS almost to a thumb nail autobiography of Zeta District's Governor Huber C. Hurst, Florida Alpha '27, is found in his statement: "My hobby, avocation, and sport has always been WORK."

Huber Hurst has worked hard and achieved much in the short span of years since 1900 when he was born.

He has accumulated three degrees; Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws from the University of Florida, and Master of Arts from Ohio State University.

He has been employed as bookkeeper and office manager for the Fatey Fleming Co., Central Florida's largest wholesale grocers and as Auditor of the University of Florida. Since 1927 he has been a member of the Florida Faculty, having now the rank of Associate Professor. In addition to his professorial duties Governor Hurst is a Director of the Gainesville Mutual Building and Loan Association and heads his own Mortgage and Loan Investment business.

Since its organization in 1927, he has been treasurer and director of the Florida Alpha Alumni Corporation. The feeling of Florida Alphans toward him finds expression in the statement of an undergraduate: "Don't call him alumni treasurer, call him patron saint of Florida Alpha."

Hurst's professional and honorary memberships include Phi Delta Phi and Alpha Kappa Psi.

He is a bachelor.

THETA DISTRICT, NO. 8

Tennessee Alpha, Kentucky Alpha

Governor William E. Jones, Tennessee Alpha, '31

A MAN OF FEW WORDS is Theta District's Governor William E. Jones, Tennessee Alpha '31. Bill has been my personal friend for more than a half dozen years, but in all those years he has divulged very little personal information on which to base a factually adequate introduction.

I know that he was born on May 4, 1909; that he attended the University of Tennessee where he played a large part in the affairs of Tennessee Alpha; and that he was, among other things, a member of Delta Sigma Pi.

I know that he entered the employment of the Southeastern Greyhound Lines with completion of his studies at Tennessee and that he has been steadily advanced until he now holds the important position of Assistant General Traffic Manager.

I know that he married attractive Katharine Webb of Transylvania College in August of last year.

I know that he has attended the Bigwin Inn, Chattanooga, and Denver Conclaves, and that he has made his presence felt in each of the three.

I know that he is an omnivorous reader, and that he is also fond of camping, swimming and hiking.

I know that Theta District is fortunate in having Bill as its leader.

LAMBDA DISTRICT, NO. 11

Wisconsin Alpha, Wisconsin Beta, Minnesota Alpha

Governor Neal DeBold Miley, Minnesota Alpha, '30

TYPICAL OF THE fashion in which he has always served his fraternity is Lambda District's Governor Neal Miley's statement at the time of acceptance of the proffered governorship: "I am fully aware that business and personal affairs may suffer somewhat, but I shall consider the sacrifice well made, and to a worthy cause." Such was the spirit of Neal Miley as an undergraduate Minnesota Alphan; it has likewise been his spirit as a loyal and resourceful alumnus of his own chapter and of the Twin Cities Alumni Association.

Neal's undergraduate and post graduate activities are not available. It is known, however, that he was and is a devotee of all sports, particularly of hunting and fishing; and that he has a great love of and appreciation for music, being himself a more than creditable performer on the clarinet.

He is industrial salesman for Janney, Semple, Hill and Company of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Miley, who is also a former student at the University of Minnesota, was Delpha June Krueger before her marriage to Neal on November 18, 1932.

MU DISTRICT, NO. 12

Iowa Alpha, Iowa Beta, Iowa Gamma,
Missouri Alpha, Missouri Beta

Governor Jack Cornell Conreux, Missouri
Beta, '31

RISING YOUNG LAWYER and business man is Jack Conreux, Missouri Beta, '31, Governor of Mu District.

Graduated from Washington University with the degree of LL.B. in 1931, Jack was attorney for the Maryland Casualty Company before accepting partnership in the St. Louis law firm of Hale and Conreux in 1933. In addition to the general practice of law he is an insurance broker, and junior partner in a grocery business, the last being at University City, Missouri.

Jack's fraternity experience has been gratifyingly varied. He has served as a member of the Missouri Beta Alumni Board, has been president of the St. Louis Alumni Chapter, and a member of the national scholarship committee.

A delegate to the Bigwin, Chattanooga, and Denver Conclaves, he has served on a number of the more important committees at each of these meetings.

His post graduate activity is but a projection of a beginning made as an undergraduate when he was a member of the basketball team; president of the senior class; president of the Panhellenic Association; a member of the "W" club; junior intramural manager; associate editor of the Hatchet; president of Bears, honorary pep fraternity; head varsity cheerleader; charter member of the John Hancock Law club; lead in All-University musical comedy; and a member of Phi Alpha Delta.

His avocation is politics in general, municipal politics in particular. Since 1936 he has been a Republican committeeman.

Jack was married to Dorothy Virginia Paasch in September, 1934.

His brother, Lyndel O. Conreux is also a Missouri Betan, having been graduated in 1931.

NU DISTRICT, NO. 13

Governor Earle Wesley Frost, Kansas
Beta, '20

NOT THE LEAST bit superstitious about his district's number 13 is Nu District's able Governor Earle Wesley Frost, Kansas Beta '20. And that Nu District Sig Eps need have no fear of the results to be achieved by their governor would seem to be justified by what is to follow.

Earle was graduated from Kansas State with the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1920, and from Columbia University School of Law with the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1923.

From 1923-26 he was an associate of Kansas City Attorney William E. Byers. Since 1926 he has carried on his own practice and is an associate of the firm of Meredith and Harwood. In addition, he is counsel for and a member of the Faculty of Kansas City College of Commerce.

He has held two public offices to date. In 1926 he was Assistant Prosecuting attorney for Jackson County, Mo.; and from 1930-33 he was Special Assistant Solicitor for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Formidable, indeed, is his list of honors and activities which is presented without attempt at classification or evaluation: high school class valedictorian and winner of the Marshall County, Kansas, high school oratorical contest in 1916; holder Kansas State College pole-vault record 1917-20; president, Student Government Association of Kansas State, 1920; athletic member, New York Athletic Club, 1921-23; pole vault champion, Metropolitan district of A.A.U., 1921 and 1922; N.Y. Athletic club representative at the National Track and Field Championships, Pasadena, California, in 1921, and Newark, N.J., in 1922; athletic member, Kansas City Athletic club, 1923-26; formerly President and holder of all other offices of the Kansas City Alumni Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon; several times President of the Kansas Beta Alumni Association; delegate to the Denver Conclave, 1935, where as chairman of the fraternity's Constitution and By-Laws Committee he was largely responsible for the achievement of the brobdignagian task which was the revision of that document.

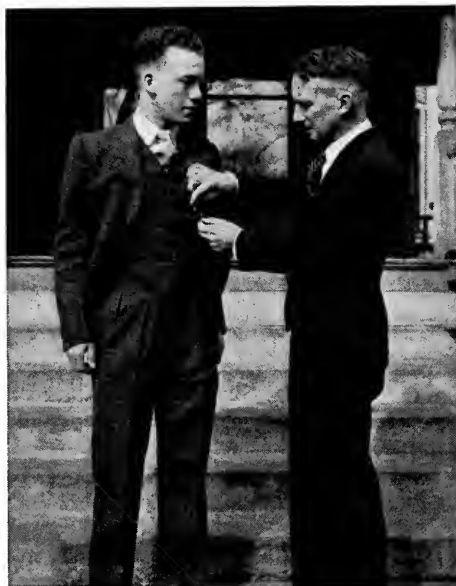

His professional and honorary memberships include Phi Delta Phi, Pi Kappa Delta, Story Inn (Columbia), the Missouri Bar Association and the Kansas City Bar Association, Lawyer's Association, and Chancery club.

Earle married Esther Houston, Baker University Zeta Tau Alpha, back in 1930. There are two children—prospective Sig Ep Earle, Jr., and Sylvia Elaine.

FATHER AND SON

Sig Ep father A. F. Neutzman, Iowa Alpha '14, adjusts the badge of Sig Ep son M. Edwin Neutzman, Iowa Alpha '40.

THE NUMBER of Sig Eps who are attaining fraternity immortality through the initiation of their sons into Sigma Phi Epsilon continues to grow.

It is proposed to present a composite story on Sig Ep Sires and Sons in the September JOURNAL; meanwhile the fraternity is appraised of several father-to-son initiations recently conducted.

A thrilled spectator at the impressive Easter Sunday initiation of son M. Edwin Neutzman, '40, into Iowa Alpha, was father Albert F. Neutzman, '14, who at the same altar had taken the same vows some twenty years ago.

In the years intervening between the initiation of father Neutzman and son Neutzman Sigma Phi Epsilon tradition has been richened by the initiation of 276 men into Iowa Alpha.

On January 31 District of Columbia Alpha's Frank Hamack, Sr., '13, with the assistance of former Grand President O. E. Draper, and six other prominent alumni, conducted the ritual of initiation into Washington Beta for Frank Hamack, Jr., '40.

No man who witnessed the ceremony will soon forget Frank's initiation of his son, and having witnessed it, it is highly doubtful that any one of them will fail to so exemplify the fraternity to his sons that they will want to carry on the tradition of their Dads.

In the conduct of the ritual, Frank, Sr., was assisted by E. C. Pixler, West Virginia Beta '11; Ed. Scotton, Oregon Alpha '22; Bev. Travis, Washington Beta '22; and Nathan Thompson, Washington Beta '23.

On March 6 Sig Ep Father George G. Tankard, Sr., witnessed the initiation of son George G. Tankard, Jr., into Virginia Zeta; the ceremonies being attended by Grand Historian Rodney C. Berry, First Assistant to the Grand Secretary Mark D. Wilkins, and twenty Virginia Zeta alumni.

Benjamin Hobson Frayser Passes

WITH THE DEATH of Doctor Benjamin Hobson Frayser, Tennessee Alpha, on March 5, a fraternity man of wide and varied fraternal interests passes from the fraternity scene.

Dr. Frayser, who was Senior Resident Physician and Surgeon at the Lexington, Ky., Veteran's Hospital, where he died, leaves unfinished the World War History of Sigma Phi Epsilon on which he was engaged at the time of his death.

One of the country's most enthusiastic Greeks, Dr. Frayser was founder of the national secondary school fraternity Pi Delta Pi, becoming its first Grand Alpha, and serving either in that capacity or as its Grand Beta until 1914. He was the author of both the fraternity's Constitution and Ritual.

He was also founder of the National Pharmaceutical Fraternity Kappa Phi which he served as Grand Moderator for a number of years, being the author, also, of its Ritual.

A leader in the 1923-25 reorganization of Theta Nu Epsilon, Doctor Frayser, Montana District Deputy for the fraternity from 1924-26, was chosen National Trustee and a member of the Grand Council in 1930, and was National Historian at the time of his death. He was the author of T.N.E.'s "Special Ritual."

His loyalty to Chi Zeta Chi, Medical Fraternity, is evidenced by service as Province Regent, as business manager and associate editor of the Chi Zeta Chi Medical Record, and as Acting Grand Bursar of the fraternity. On April 6, 1929, Chi Zeta Chi was amalgamated with Phi Rho Sigma.

MAJOR B. H. FRAYSER

*His World War History of Sigma Phi Epsilon

Doctor Frayser came into Sigma Phi Epsilon through the installation of the University of Tennessee local Phi Alpha Phi of which he was one of the founders, as Tennessee Alpha. He was co-author of Phi Alpha Phi's Ritual and Constitution.

He took a vigorous interest in the local which was to become Kentucky Alpha and, as indicated, was rendering a much-needed service to the fraternity in compiling the military and naval history of its members. It will be most difficult to find someone with qualifications and zeal sufficient to complete his unfinished task.

Dr. Frayser was born in Buchanan, Virginia, and spent the early part of his life at the ancestral home of his maternal grandfather, James Monroe Finch, of "Belle-Nemua," Powhatan County. He was a descendant of many of Virginia's colonial families. In May, 1900, he and his mother moved to Charlottesville, Virginia, in order that he might have better educational advantages.

He was confirmed as a member of the Episcopal Church when 12 years of age. Major Frayser

* Sig Ep Leadership Awards to Fraternity's Ten Most Outstanding Undergraduates

THE thoroughgoing canvass of the fraternity's undergraduate membership which was undertaken by the chapters and by a committee on award to determine, first, the most outstanding Sig Ep in each chapter and, then, the most outstanding Sig Ep in each of the fraternity's ten districts,* has been completed.

Fifty-eight of the sixty-seven chapters made nominations for the Sig Ep Leadership Awards to be made by the committee on the basis of theirs and the chapter's findings.

The fifty-eight nominees constitute a Roll of Achievement which only a great fraternity could have produced.

The Award Committee consisted of Grand Secretary William L. Phillips, Chairman; Doctor William C. Van Vleck, Dean of the George Washington University Law School; Joseph M. Shue, Superintendent of Schools, Henrico Co., Va.; E. W. Hudgins, Judge, Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals; and F. James Barnes, II, Editor of the JOURNAL.

Scoring was on the basis of four classifications: Scholastic Attainment, Extra Curricular Activity, Fraternity Activity, and Athletics.

The committee has authorized the issuance of Certificates of Award and the payment of round trip rail and pullman fares to the Cleveland Conclave to the following men to whom it extends its and the fraternity's congratulations:

Conclave Entertainment

Great Lakes Exposition; at 7:00 delegates and their dates will gather to witness the Billy Rose spectacle, the "Aquacade." Here, in the largest swimming pool ever built, actually a large section of Lake Erie, there will be presented the greatest marine show ever staged. Let your mind visualize 150 curvaceous young ladies arrayed in brief swimming suits cut to the last minute, headed by none other than Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the "Champagne Girl" and you have something worth conjuring with. If that picture doesn't make you want to come to Cleveland it is our suggestion that you have a physical examination at once.

Immediately after this wonderful aquatic review the Informal Dance will be held on board "The Showboat" which is permanently docked adjacent to the "Aquacade" swimming pool. Music will be furnished by nationally known dance bands that not only know how to "swing" it but can actually "fling" it as well. We're morally certain that in this day's activities you will find plenty to rave about. You'll like the marine show, you'll enjoy dancing in the cooling breezes of beautiful Lake Erie, and you'll certainly have a better conception of what real "ummph" is.

The Formal Dance

At the head of this branch of Conclave activity we have in charge a very personable young Sig Ep brother by the name of Robert Tissot. Whilst it is true that he was picked for the job because of his executive ability there was a deeper motive involved. That motive will become apparent the instant you meet charming Doris Teale Tissot, who as you may by this time suspect, is the wife of the aforementioned Brother Robert.

It is her charm upon which we are depending to color, so to speak, the evening's divertissement. Beautiful womanhood, the flower of Lake Erie; soft lights; sweet music; the gallantry of Sigma Phi Epsilon men, all will combine to make this an outstanding Conclave event.

Special Events

In addition to the program as outlined thus far, there will be any number of special events worthy of consideration. For instance, there will be tours, lake rides, bridge-teas and theatre parties for the ladies who accompany Conclave delegates to Cleveland. No wife or sweetheart should hesitate to come along because for them too, the Committee under the guidance of Roger Peckinpugh, Jr., has set up elaborate plans for entertainment.

Last but not least, we have been promised a deal of stuff and nonsense on the part of the active chapters in Ohio, namely Ohio Epsilon, Ohio Gamma, and Ohio Beta. Having witnessed Ohio Epsilon's extravaganza, "A Night at the Opera," we can safely predict a hilarious Sig Ep Jamboree which will, to put it mildly, simply devastate you.

All in all your Chairman believes the entertainment features in connection with this Conclave will be the most attractive ever; believe us, brothers, it will be a real show. Finally, if you haven't already done so, drop whatever you may be doing and send in your registration blank at once because you just can't afford to miss this extra-curricular course in "Ummph-9."

SIG EPS OF

WESTCOTT

ALTHOUGH modestly disclaiming that he is one of Sigma Phi Epsilon's celebrated sons inhabiting the Motor City, Brayton William Westcott, just plain "Bill" to all who know him, is the unanimous choice of his fellow Sig Eps of Detroit for a JOURNAL write-up. Bill was born at Leamington, Ontario, Canada, July 10, 1899, and received his early education in the public schools at Kingsville, Ontario, graduating from Essex, Ontario High School, in 1915. The period from then until Bill matriculated at the University of Michigan in the fall of 1916 is unaccounted for, but Bill left the University in the spring of his Sophomore year to enlist in Uncle Sam's Army. While in the Army, he attended and was graduated from the United States Technology School, which school dealt in explosives. After being discharged from the Army in January, 1919, Bill re-entered the University at Ann Arbor and graduated with the class of 1920 with the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Biologist

During his college life, Bill found time to play on the baseball team, receiving an injury in a ball game which prevented his taking his physics exam with his class, so that he was compelled to take a special examination in this subject which he passed with flying colors.

After graduation, Bill went to work for Brunner-Mond of Canada, Ltd., which is the Canadian affiliate to the Solvay Process Company, of Detroit, as Assistant Construction Engineer on a plant construction job, leaving there in the fall of 1921 when this project was discontinued by the company. He entered sales work for about two years and then joined the Zenith-Detroit Corporation, manufacturer of carburetors, in May, 1923. With the Zenith company, Bill was started in the shop on production, after which he was transferred to draftsman, assistant chief engineer and research engineer, then to Assistant General Manager and Vice-President, the position he now holds.

Bill was married December 4, 1920, to Verna Williams Leonard, of Toronto, Ontario, and they have three children, Marian, 12 years old, Robert, 10 years old, and Barbara who will be four in about two months.

Brother Bill has been so busy climbing the heights of industry that he finds little

FEHR

JOSEPH CONRAD FEHR, District of Columbia Alpha, the son of the famous "Pin Dropper," who for thirty-four years demonstrated the renowned acoustics of the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City to millions of visiting tourists by whispering passages of scripture and dropping a pin on the Prophet's pulpit that could be heard in the remotest corner of the large edifice that seats nearly fifteen thousand persons, is now one of the officials of the Federal Trade Commission charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that business engages in fair trade practices and in prosecuting corporations, firms, partnerships and individuals that don't.

Joe, as he is known to friends and acquaintances all over the country, came to the United States as a rosy cheeked and curly haired lad not yet ten, and at once entered into the process known as "Americanization" by attending the public schools of Salt Lake City. Although having been to school for three years in his native town of Schaffhausen am Rheinfall, he got a setback by being put back in the first grade with youngsters of six—which we'll admit was hard to take. But in the ensuing years he skipped several grades, thus making up for lost time and regaining his pride.

Although the family was always in humble financial circumstances, Joe persisted in gaining an education and to lessen the burden of his parents did odd jobs after school hours helping his father in the Salt Lake Tabernacle, working as messenger boy in drug stores, "jerking" soda at nights, and writing school news for the various Salt Lake City dailies. Several times he had to quit school for months at a time to increase the family's earnings, but he always came back again in deadly pursuit of learning and an education.

ATTORNEY, AUTHOR
Joseph C. Fehr, D.C. Alpha

In this way Joe finally got through the Latter Day Saints University, a Mormon church school. In 1916 he came to Washington on a "shoe string." His transportation facilities were characteristic to him. Having had considerable experience "bumming" around the Intermountain West during previous summers, he got a job as one of several men to take a shipment of horses being sent to the eastern seaboard for transshipment overseas for service on the western front. Joe rode in the caboose as far as Chicago, and then purchased a railroad ticket at cut rate to Washington. This trip of nearly three thousand miles cost him about eighteen dollars.

In Washington his hopes of obtaining a government position proved to be a little too sanguine. But instead of returning home he accepted a combination job as night clerk, bus boy and "bell hop" in the old George Washington Hotel which netted him board and room and just enough money to pay his monthly tuition as a first year law student in George Washington University. His undies and socks he had to wash himself.

When the United States entered the world war Joe beat his way West in the spring of 1917 in order to enlist in an ambulance corps being organized by some of his old school mates in Utah. Instead of going overseas as soon as everyone in the outfit had been led to believe, the corps was sent to Camp Grant, Illinois, for intensive training. And there the boys remained through the winter of 1917-18. In April, 1918, Joe and fourteen of his buddies held up their right hands one day in answer to a call for volunteers to go to Camp Logan, Texas, to help fill up the celebrated Illinois National Guard's "Prairie Division" to full overseas strength. When they got to Texas the boys were separated from each other, and Joe found himself drilling as a private in the 130th Infantry.

This time, however, he got overseas.

And no sooner was the division landed in Brest, France, than Joe along with the rest of the division was put in the front line trenches along the Albert-Amiens Sector of the British Front. From that moment on until he was wounded during the Argonne Drive on October 30, 1918, Joe and his comrades saw active military service at various points on the Western Front.

After spending several months in various military hospitals all over France, including a sojourn on the beautiful Riviera (you'll have to let him tell you about that), Joe eventually came home again, as a casual, and was finally discharged, apparently none the worse for his experiences, in March, 1919.

Home again, Joe became a full-fledged reporter on one of the local dailies and worked at it, by-line stuff and everything, until June, 1919, when he was offered a job on Capitol Hill in Washington—a job that would enable him to pursue his law studies.

Back in Washington Joe was one of the busiest youngsters in town. Besides going to school and working in the Senate wing of the Capitol and in the Senate Office Building, he was also Washington correspondent for a home town paper. Jean Boardman, who was on the secretarial staff of blind Senator Gore of Oklahoma took a liking to Joe, brought him around to the old Sig Ep house on 19th Street, where George Bowen (now Dr. Bowen, of New York) was holding forth in all his pristine glory as chapter president, soon after this Swiss-American hell raiser was making himself felt in the councils of the Fraternity chapter as a sort of "Young Turk." Naturally he had to be somewhat toned down once in a while. But of all the fellows in D.C. Alpha in those halcyon days following the war, Joe was one of the most liked and through all the years since he has had an abiding affection for his fraternity and fraternity brothers, and they for him.

Joe has held various responsible positions in the service of the Federal Government. Following his graduation from law school in 1921, he became Special Assistant to the Attorney General of the United States in the Trading with the Enemy Section. On this job he wrote his first magazine article on "Disposal of Enemy Property," the article appearing in the North American Review for July, 1922. From January 1923 until the spring of 1926, Joe was an Associate Counsel for the United States before the American-German Claims Arbitration which he helped put on the map with a series of informative articles which appeared from time to time in the North American Review, the American Review of Reviews, Current History Magazine, the New York Times and the American Bar Association Journal. Other articles issued from his pen and were published in other leading journals discussing legal and governmental matters. His work in connection with this important international arbitration also took him to Europe one summer to assist in the settlement of several hundred claims against Germany.

Before entering private practice, with offices in Washington, Joe was for a time senior attorney in the Office of the General Counsel, Bureau of Internal Revenue. In private practice Joe specialized in claims against the Government and foreign governments, and the handling of matters before the various executive departments. When President Roosevelt inaugurated his New Deal objectives in the summer of 1933, Joe was appointed by him to serve as a member of the Veterans Board of Appeals in Washington. And in 1935 he was again called to a position of trust and influence as an attorney with the Federal Trade Commission, where he is serving at the present time.

As will be seen, Joe's career has been one of many-sided interests. He has traveled extensively, both in this country and abroad. He has been successful both as journalist and as lawyer. In 1929 he distinguished himself as the organizer of The INQUIRENDO (meaning to inquire into; to want to know), a group of fifty prominent Government officials, doctors, diplomats, lawyers, clergymen, college professors, architects, army and naval officers and other professional men, which meets twice a month for the discussion of social, political and economic problems. Some of the foremost statesmen and economists in the world have appeared before this body and discussed many matters of timely interest from an authoritative standpoint. Recognizing him as its founder, The INQUIRENDO made Joe its first president and re-elected him for three years in succession. Now in its eighth year, the organization enjoys an international reputation.

Fehr belongs to the National Press Club, American Academy of Political and Social Science, District of Columbia Bar Association, American Bar Association. His chief hobbies are the theatre, reading, walking, and conversation.

SCHLINGMAN

AROUND Detroit, when one thinks of vaccines, toxin, antitoxin, serums, and other highly specialized aids to modern medical science, the name of Dr. Albert S. Schlingman, prominent Sigma Phi Epsilon alumnus of Ohio State University, instantly comes to mind. "Doc," as he is affectionately known by his friends, was born at West Alexandria, Ohio, April 28, 1889. He attended the grade and high schools at Eaton, Ohio, graduating from the latter in 1907. In the fall of 1907, he matriculated at Capitol University, in Columbus, Ohio, and the following year he enrolled in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Ohio State University. He graduated in 1911 with the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine.

BIOLOGIST

After graduation, "Doc" practiced veterinary medicine from 1911 until 1922, whereupon he again enrolled at the University for some post-graduate work. In 1923 he received his degree as Master of Science from his Alma Mater, and journeyed to Detroit to become associated with Parke, Davis & Company, as Research Veterinarian in the Research and Biological Laboratories of the Company. In 1936, Dr. Schlingman was elevated to the office of Assistant Director of Biological Laboratories, the position he now holds.

Schlingman was a member of Ohio Gamma during his student days at Columbus, and was active in the social life of the campus and the chapter. In 1912 he was married to Edna Royer, of Eaton, Ohio. There are two children, Sig Ep Son, Royer, twenty-three years of age, and Margaret, fifteen years old. Royer graduated in Chemical Engineering from the University of Michigan in 1935, being a member of Michigan Alpha, serving as president of the group. Margaret attends high school.

CRUICKSHANKS

A COLLEGE PROFESSOR, whose career has constituted a happy balance between the theory and the practice of his subject, is Benjamin C. Cruickshanks, District of Columbia Alpha, '20, Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering at the George Washington University.

Cruickshanks was born at Richmond, Va., November 26, 1892.

He attended the public schools in Richmond and Alexandria, Va.; Newburgh and Staten Island, N.Y.; and Washington, D.C., being graduated from Washington's McKinley Tech high school in 1911.

From 1911 to 1920 he was employed as Laboratory Apprentice to the Assistant Physicist of the National Bureau of Standards. Meanwhile he was attending George Washington University and serving District of Columbia Alpha, with which he had affiliated himself, in various capacities; as historian, house manager, president, delegate to a District Conference in Richmond, and was chosen delegate to the Indianapolis Conclave, but was unable to attend. This disability he still regrets.

Upon graduation he was made Instructor in Mechanical Engineering at G.W. In 1923 he gave up his Instructorship to accept a position with the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., as Editor of The Locomotive, semi-technical magazine, and oldest house organ in America.

In 1927 he returned to G.W. as Assistant Professor and in 1933 was promoted to an Associate Professorship.

During the summers of 1928-29-30 he served as Research Associate at the National Bureau of Standards.

At G.W. Professor Cruickshanks has served for five years on the President's Council, for five years on the Dean's Council, for three years as Honorary Chairman of the Student Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and for seven years he has served as Faculty Adviser to Sigma Tau, Engineering Honor Society. He has also served a term of two years on Sigma Tau's National Fellowship Committee.

His articles have appeared in the Bureau of Standards Journal, Rough Notes (insurance magazine), The Locomotive, and The Pyramid of Sigma Tau.

In addition to Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Tau, he is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, the Masonic Fraternity, Faculty Club of G.W.U., Manor Park Citizens' Association, and of the Episcopal Church.

SHULER

DETROIT, home of the automobile, is also the home of many Sig Ep celebrities, one of whom is Harvey A. Shuler. Born at Hamilton, Ohio, November 19, 1884, Brother Shuler's ancestors were of Alsace-Lorraine and German origin on his mother's side and Holland Dutch on his father's side, his father being a direct descendant of Peter Schuyler, who helped make early history in the Dutch colony at New York.

Harvey's early schooling only took him to the eighth grade in the public schools at Hamilton, when he was compelled to quit school and find employment to assist the family at home. He took a course in book-keeping but showed an aptitude for drawing, so that his father started him in learning the draughting trade at the age of fifteen years, and for the next eight years he worked at this line of employment in machine tool, steam engine, and steam turbine design, at Hamilton, and also with the General Electric Company, at Schenectady, N.Y., with the exception of two years spent in a machine shop for the purpose of gaining practical knowledge. During this period of his life, young Shuler was laying the groundwork of practical experience in engineering and machine shop technique and his contact with technical engineers and designers led him to discover that his lack of study of theory was holding him back, so that the urge to attend an engineering school became a haunting ambition. The engineers under whom Shuler worked saw that there was latent talent, and they encouraged and talked to him and even left catalogs of Ohio State University lying around his work benches to whet his appetite.

However, two big hurdles loomed up, the first a lack of entrance credits and second a lack of funds. However, Shuler discovered from the catalogs that persons over twenty-one years old could enter Ohio State University as special students, without the required fifteen entrance credits, so he determined upon matriculating as a special student taking the regular mechanical engineering course. To do so, it was necessary to pass an entrance examination in algebra through and beyond quadratics, as well as geometry, for a total of one and one-half entrance credits. In preparation for this, Shuler attended night school for a year at the Y.M.C.A. and succeeded in passing, so that in September, 1907, he entered Ohio State. In four regular college years, together with two summer sessions, he passed what ordinarily requires eight years of study to cover, that is, four years of high school and four years of college training.

Shuler received his degree of M.E. in 1911. Notwithstanding his heavy study schedule, Harvey found time to mix into the student life about him to delve into the social and political life of the campus. He was one of the charter members of Ohio Gamma, which was installed at Columbus in 1908. In the chapter house, Shuler served one year as treasurer, another as president, and a half year as steward. On the campus, he was a member of the sophomore social committee, associate editor of Makio, (Ohio State Annual), played in the varsity band and orchestra (coronet), member of the Ohio Union committee, president of the senior Engineering Society, and held a membership in the Student Branch of A.S.M.E.

After graduation in 1911, Shuler entered the employ of the Kinnear Manufacturing Company, of Columbus, Ohio. In May 1912, he was sent to their Philadelphia office as assistant manager. In March 1913, he was transferred to the Detroit office as District manager, which is the position he still holds, along with his several other business activities.

Mechanical Heat and Cold, Inc., is a company which Shuler fathered in 1921, and this business deals in heating and refrigeration units, and enjoys a thriving business at the present time.

Detroit Home Insulators, Inc., another company owned and presided over by Brother Shuler, was organized in 1935 and is a rapidly growing infant. As the name signifies, the company deals in insulating products and installations.

Shuler finds time away from business activities to serve as an Elder in the Presbyterian Church and a member of the Board of Trustees, as well as a member of the Board of Directors of the Plum Hollow Golf club, president of the School Board of the City of Highland Park, member of the Highland Park Recreation Commission, president of the Ohio State Alumni Association.

Shuler married Mary Grace Holliday at Wooster, Ohio, in September, 1915, having met her while at Columbus in 1911. Mrs. Shuler is one of four daughters of Reverend Thomas Holliday (now deceased) a missionary to Punjab, British India. She was born at Gudaspur, British India, and was brought to this country when fourteen years old. She attended high school at Wooster, Ohio, then on to Western College for Women, at Oxford, Ohio, from which she graduated in 1913. Mrs. Shuler is now national president of Western College Alumnae Association. The Shulers have three sons, Harvey A., Jr., born July 13, 1916, now a Junior at William and Mary College; Thomas Holliday, born April 13, 1918, attending Highland Park high school, and John Hays, born March 24, 1927, enrolled in the grade school.

PAYNE

AN ABLE young attorney who has been in the thick of the government's legal fight to defend recent legislation against attack is District of Columbia Alpha's J. Stanley Payne, who is Assistant Chief Counsel of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In two notable recent cases in which Payne represented the commission before the United State Supreme Court—Sprunt and Son v. U.S., and Warehouse Co. v. U.S.,—he was opposed by no less a person than the Honorable John W. Davis. That the court decided both cases in Payne's favor is no mean indication of his ability as an advocate.

Other notable cases that he has briefed and argued before the Supreme Court as counsel either for the Commission or for the United States and the Commission jointly are: Balto. & Ohio R.R. Co. v. U.S., Ann Arbor R. Co. v. U.S., U.S. v. B. & O. R.R., Alton R. Co. v. U.S., I.C.C. v. O.-W.R. & N. Co., Florida v. U.S., Cape Fear Rys. v. U.S., Mississippi Valley Barge Co. v. U.S., Adams v. Mills, Atchison, T. & S.F. Ry. v. U.S.

After having received the degrees of LL.B. and LL.M. Payne entered George Washington University in 1914 and for three years took courses "selected by me, including Political Science, Economics, English, Psychology and Logic."

During the first of his three years at G.W. he was initiated into District of Columbia Alpha; the second year found him occupying the position of secretary and the third year heading his chapter as president.

He was appointed to the legal staff of the I.C.C. in 1916 and has, by successive steps, attained to his present position.

He was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of the U.S. April 12, 1927.

CHAMBERS

JUSTICE M. CHAMBERS, District of Columbia Alpha, is Assistant Commissioner of the United States Maritime Commission, the Assistant Commissionership representing a comparatively recent promotion.

As he puts it, "My work for the past eight years has been largely devoted to organizational methods, procedures, investigations and, in my new position, I have an opportunity of putting into practical application a great many of the procedures which formerly I could only recommend."

Prior to coming to the Maritime Commission, Chambers was Assistant Chief of the Planning Division, Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

A First Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserves, he is in command of Company C. of the Fifth Battalion, located in Washington.

During his two years at George Washington—he received his law degree at National University—Chambers was a member of the varsity basketball and football teams, and represented District of Columbia Alpha in intramural basketball, baseball, tennis, and bowling.

The Journal Affiliates with Fraternity Magazines Associated

THE JOURNAL has recently joined with the national journals of 46 other leading fraternities and sororities to participate in an effort to attract national advertising to a limited number of their pages. The desirability of using the advertising of only high quality firms and products in the fraternity magazines has been advocated for a number of years because of the revenue it would provide for better magazines or other fraternity services, and because it has been pointed out that such advertising would lift the magazines out of the house-organ class in the estimation of some readers who compare them with the general magazines that reach their homes.

Because each fraternity magazine's individual circulation is too small to be practical for use by national advertisers, it was necessary that their respective circulations be grouped for presentation to the advertiser as a single unit. This has been done in the present undertaking, forming a total circulation of nearly 400,000; 83% of which has been found to be alumni subscribers and 17% of whom are undergraduate readers. Because the circulation of fraternity magazines is steadily growing, the annual increase for this group approximates 20,000 readers. The distribution of the circulation matches closely the distribution of the national population.

The advertising group has been named Fraternity Magazines Associated, and its supervision is in the hands of the outgrowth of a committee appointed to study the project by the Fraternity Editors Association of the National Interfraternity Conference. The directors include: George Banta, Jr., former president and editor of Phi Delta Theta, and head of the Banta Publishing Company, Menasha, Wis.; K. D. Pulcifer, editor of Pi Kappa Alpha, and a Detroit advertising man; Chester W. Cleveland, editor of Sigma Chi; Leland F. Leland, editor of Tau Kappa Epsilon and head of Leland Publishers, Inc., St. Paul, Minn.; A. M. Wharfield, editor of Alpha Chi Rho, who recently opened the New York City offices of Fraternity Magazines Associated as its manager, and Stewart S. Howe, national alumni secretary of Kappa Sigma, located in Chicago as president of The Stewart Howe Alumni Service. The principle offices of the project have been established at 1618 Orrington Avenue, Evanston, Ill., with Mr. Howe in charge.

Members having suggestions and being willing to aid in establishing the fraternity magazines as recognized mediums by national advertisers are invited to participate.

Only non-objectionable types of advertising will be accepted for publication.

LIKE OMICRON's Governor Patch, Xi's Governor X. R. Gill was also a pioneer Acting Governor on the basis of whose successes the District Governor Plan was adopted.

Liberal in everything but facts about himself, my introduction of X. R. can't be anything but inadequate.

From meagre facts, which he did not prepare, I have come to know that he attended the University of Colorado during the years 1911 and 1912 and that he was initiated into Colorado Alpha on September 4, 1911.

From that date we must jump to the present to find him President of X. R. Gill, Inc., one of the Southwest's largest and most prosperous automobile sales agencies, located at 2112 N. Harwood St., Dallas, Texas.

He is a member of the Lakewood Country club, Dallas Athletic club, Kiwanis club, and the Dallas Automotive Trades Association, of which he is president.

He was at one time the country's youngest bank president and the youngest president of a Kiwanis club, achievements both. His realst achievement in my judgment, however, is being the father of Sig Ep Son Atticus James Gill, North Carolina Gamma, soon to receive his M.D. degree from Duke University's School of Medicine.

Mrs. Gill, who was Martha Trotter, attended Warrensburg (Mo.) State College and the University of Colorado.

Governor Gill attended the Denver Conclave and will be in attendance at the Cleveland Conclave.

Governor Charles Rufus Patch, Colorado Alpha

To Omicron District, Governor Charlie Patch, Colorado Alpha, needs no introduction. Appointed to the position of Acting District Governor shortly after the Denver Conclave, Brother Patch explored the possibilities of the district governor scheme in what is now Omicron; and it is largely as a result of the gratifying results achieved there by him that the Executive Committee adopted the scheme on a fraternity-wide basis.

Charlie is a banker turned insurance man. From 1909 to 1935 he was in the banking business, being connected, in that time, with five different institutions. At the last bank with which he was associated he declares that he was cashier, secretary, treasurer, trust officer, and a member of the board, and would, no doubt, have been janitor, too, but the bank had a long-time janitor of whom the management was too fond to let Charlie have his duties! However that may be, he quit banking to found, and is now sole owner of the Denver Insurance Agency which represents companies writing fire, casualty, liability, and other general lines of insurance.

At various times he has served as secretary, treasurer, vice-president, and president of the Denver Chapter of the American Institute of Banking; is a member and has been secretary of the Denver Breakfast club; and has been secretary, treasurer, and president of the Denver Alumni Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon, capping the whole with masterful direction of the Denver Conclave.

Governor Patch married gracious Weila Richmond Bell, Denver Pi Beta Phi, back in 1920. They have one daughter, Georgie Bell.

Governor Robert Leslie Ryan, California Alpha, '25

SIGMA District's Governor Bob Ryan, California Alpha '25, is a Los Angeles banker, being assistant cashier and chief clerk of the Bank of America, N.T.S.A. Bob has been with this institution ever since graduation and has served in several of the bank's departments and branches. He is also a Director of the White House Home Products Corporation, of Los Angeles.

As an undergraduate he served California Alpha as rushing chairman and as president.

With graduation his interest in the fraternity was no whit lessened. He was a charter member of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of which he was secretary for four years and president for two years.

He served as a member of the California Beta Installation committee; became a charter member of Sigma Phi Epsilon House Inc., Ltd., California Beta's Alumni Corporation.

He was Los Angeles alumni delegate to the Denver Conclave.

Since its establishment he has served the fraternity's Placement Service as Los Angeles representative.

Governor and Mrs. Ryan (Roberta D. Nelson) have two fine daughters Kay and Diana.

Testimonial Dinner

By C. OSCAR BERRY, D. of C. Alpha

ABOUT 500 students, lawyers, professors and judges gathered at the Mayflower Hotel, in Washington, on Saturday evening March 20, 1937, to honor William C. Van Vleck, D. C. Alpha, Dean of The George Washington University Law School, on his completion of 25 years' service in the Law School. The occasion was a testimonial dinner sponsored by The George Washington Law Association, which is the alumni group of the Law School.

An inscribed watch was presented to Dean Van Vleck by Col. Walter C. Clephane, long a member of the faculty and a prominent Washington attorney, as an expression of the esteem and affection of the alumni, the students, and the faculty.

Dean Van Vleck's work both as a teacher and administrator was praised highly by those who have worked with him during his 25 years' of association with the institution and by representatives of the various other departments of the University.

In addition to the many laudatory speeches from those who were present, toastmaster E. Hilton Jackson, president of the Law Association, read congratulatory telegrams and letters of felicitation from many who were unable to attend, among those being E. C. Arnold, the Sig Ep who is now Dean of Vanderbilt Law School and

New York Alpha Holds Thirtieth Reunion

MORE THAN 100 alumni attended the 30th annual reunion of New York Alpha men at Syracuse University last November, marking the outstanding 1936 event of Sigma Phi Epsilon in New York State.

Alumni from all parts of the country returned to renew their college and fraternity acquaintances and revive happy memories of former days.

The program opened Friday evening with a buffet luncheon and get-together, followed by the traditional Syracuse-Colgate football game Saturday afternoon, and formal banquet in the evening.

Grand Secretary William L. Phillips was principal speaker at the banquet.

Other outstanding alumni present were: Dr. Frank N. Bryant, director of admissions at Syracuse; and the five famous Hoople brothers—Ross, Howard, Gordon, Clifford and Robert. Ross is professor of philosophy at Syracuse, and Gordon is a professor in the Syracuse College of Medicine.

Four of the original founders of New York Alpha were present: Loren W. Chester, Irving C. Matthews, Roy Wilson, and George Beckwith.

D. C. Alpha's 31st Anniversary Banquet

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA Alpha celebrated its annual visit from Grand Secretary "Uncle Billy" Phillips with a banquet held at Wesley Hall in Washington on March 17, 1937. The banquet marked the 31st anniversary of the founding of the local chapter, Kappa Sigma Pi, on the George Washington campus and the 28th annual visit of Brother Phillips to the chapter on that date.

The banquet was attended by 70 of the alumni of District of Columbia Alpha and other chapters who now reside in Washington. The chief addresses of the evening were delivered by "Uncle Billy" and Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado Alpha. Other talks were made by Commissioner of Patents Conway P. Coe, Dean William C. Van Vleck of the George Washington Law School, and Ara M. Daniels, Potentate of Almas Temple of Shriners, a charter member of the local chapter, who told of the founding of the local and of its early existence. Jean M. Boardman, prominent lawyer of Washington, acted as toastmaster.

Early pictures of the local chapter contributed by Brother Daniels as well as a scrapbook of the local chapter, recently unearthed by the present chapter and containing write-ups from 1906-1908, were interesting subjects viewed by the visitors.

Out of town guests were Walter G. Fly of Bethlehem, Pa. L. Marshall Burkholder and Mark D. Wilkins, Assistants to the Grand Secretary, Frank O. Everett, and Edgar Davidson of Richmond, Va. Brothers Van Vleck and Daniels were the only charter members present, the others Frank W. Dahn, David A. Baer, and William G. Dulin being out of town on business.

Pennsylvania Theta Charter Withdrawn

ON December 21, 1936, George W. Cost, Jap F. Steele, George Fimbel, Theodore A. McDowell, Lee F. Maxwell, Russell B. Gunia, Max R. Dornas, Jack C. Wessenauer, and Frank J. Chopik, active members of Pennsylvania Theta, petitioned the Executive Committee to surrender their chapter's charter.

The petition, which was approved by the chapter's Alumni Board, cited as reasons for the request depleted numbers and the general fraternity situation on the campus as combining to prevent the maintenance of the high standards required by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The petition was received favorably by the Executive Committee on January 2, 1937.

All official records, papers, paraphernalia, and other property belonging to the Grand Chapter have been returned and placed in the fraternity archives.

Sigma Phi Epsilon thus becomes the fifth* fraternal group to withdraw from the Carnegie Institute of Technology in recent years.

Vierling Kersey Chosen Los Angeles Schools Head

FORMER State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vierling Kersey, California Beta, returned to Los Angeles as Superintendent of City Schools on February 1, having resigned the first named position in order to accept the second.

It lacked but ten days of being eight years since Mr. Kersey left the position of assistant superintendent of Los Angeles Schools to accept the State superintendency.

Commenting on the challenge involved in the questions arising out of the place of education in a democracy, Mr. Kersey said to a representative of the Los Angeles Evening Herald on the occasion of his return to Los Angeles:

... It is clear that the schools of the City of Los Angeles are the one institution of government which is closest to the hearts of the people. Few homes are not touched with some daily contact with our great school system. Probably the most important thing which our schools can do through these contacts is to help people think through their problems.

... Our democracy is at the dawn of a thinking era. The background of training and experience our people have will determine what sort of thinking they will do.

... If we are to resist propaganda, high pressurism and ready-made opinions we will resist it because anyone can as individual citizens in a democracy think through our life situations.

Stimulating is the educational philosophy expressed by Superintendent Kersey in a September 8 interview with a representative of the Los Angeles Examiner:

Condemning especially what he dubbed the "short change" educational program, he denounced in vigorous language the "dangerous fringe of crackpot thinking in American politics, economics, religion and education which challenges every fine ideal, long standing principle and wholesome practice in our living."

VIERLING KERSEY
Los Angeles Schools Head

He summarized the "short change" theory in this manner:

"An educational program that allows a student to escape the essential values of a practical education, which have to do with citizenship and with earning a living, short change that person for adequate economic and social sufficiency in American life today."

He declared he combines belief in a Supreme Being, belief in the value of the American home, and a love of country, with a modern philosophy in educational work.

"Factors which must be considered as major responsibilities of a school administrator," said Kersey, "are public understanding and support of education, clear specifications of amounts and types of education to be offered, definite indication of the most constructive methods of teaching and a constant recognition of the need to shape the educational program consistent with economies in expenditure."

His hope, he said, is that:

"We may be brave enough to point out that there has been developed no adequate replacement for that homely, homespun religious and spiritual instruction which the sanctity of the home provided for most of us during our childhood years."

America is approaching, Kersey believes, the era of a democratization of culture which will mean that through a rich program of public education all children may come to know the fine things, the inspirations of life and the fundamentals of true culture.

TO LOVE FROM SPITLER
... the RMIPA Presidency

Love Succeeds Spitler as President of Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association

IT WAS the unusual privilege of Jack Spitler, Colorado Delta, when he retired from the presidency of the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association at the end of his term of office, to induct as his successor John Love, Colorado Beta.

Retiring President Spitler was Business Manager of the Oredigger, student newspaper at the Colorado School of Mines; President Love is Associate Editor of the Denver Clarion, student newspaper at the University of Denver.

Love was chosen to succeed Spitler as president by delegates from the seventeen schools which constitute the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association at the Association's recent convention held at Provo, Utah. The RMIPA presidency constitutes the highest honor in journalism in the Rocky Mountain area.

The accompanying photograph shows retiring president Spitler presenting a loving cup to newly elected president Love, of the Denver Clarion, for the best newspaper in the RMIPA.

Promotion for John H. Waters, Jr.

JOHN H. WATERS, JR., Virginia Delta '30, has been appointed manager for the Suffolk, Va., office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia.

Waters is a native of Portsmouth, Va., and received his education in the Portsmouth schools and at the College of William and Mary from which he was graduated in 1930. Entering the telephone company's service in July, 1930, at Richmond, he later served in the company's Norfolk office as commercial representative, holding this position until appointed manager of the Suffolk office.

While at William and Mary Waters was elected president of the senior class, among other things, and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity.

Larkin Bailey Joins St. Louis Browns Scouting Staff

FROM B. A. Bridgewater's Tulsa World sports column "Telling the World" comes the following tale of another amateur turned professional; the tale of how Iowa Beta's and California Alpha's Larkin Bailey changed overnight from an "amateur semiofficial scout for Cleveland" to "assistant scout" for the St. Louis Browns:

Larkin Bailey has turned pro. The Tulsa abstractor whose hobby for 15 years has been hunting athletes, mostly baseball and football players, has joined the scouting staff of the St. Louis Browns. His official title is "assistant scout" and he will work with Everett (Pep) Hornsby, the brother of Rajah, who will cover the territory around here.

Bailey gives your correspondent credit (or blames him, depending on how you look at it) for causing him to take the job with the Browns. In December I mentioned him in this column as an "amateur semiofficial scout of Cleveland." He got to thinking that over and decided it was true. He was doing a lot of ivory sleuthing for Cleveland and got very little out of it except the fun, which you can't eat.

Larkin offered Cleveland his professional services but Cy Slapnicka, the Indians' general manager and former chief scout, seemed in no hurry to close the deal. He wanted to wait until some of the young players Bailey had recommended reached the big league. Bailey, already 38, concluded he had been an amateur long enough and volunteered to the Browns who promptly accepted.

Although this is his first experience as a paid employee of organized baseball, Bailey has been close to the sport ever since he can remember. He was bat boy for Tulsa in the Western association away back in 1910 when the ball park was located down around 18th and Cincinnati. The league blew up in midseason. Larkin was bat boy for another Tulsa club in 1912, this one in an Oklahoma state league, and again the league fell apart in the summer.

Larkin had some difficulty finding a college where he could utilize his baseball talents and at the same time absorb an education. He attended at various times Ames (now Iowa State), California, Michigan, and Yale. He pitched on the baseball team at California and there, incidentally, got his degree.

Playing on the same California University team with Bailey in 1923 was a fleet-footed young outfielder who was so adept at chasing fly balls he aroused the scout instinct in the Tulsa boy. Larkin knew Lee Keyser, the Des Moines magnate, and recommended the college ball hawk to him. Keyser didn't take Larkin's advice. Who was the player? Oh, nobody but Taylor Douthit who later became one of the greatest fielding outfielders in baseball for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jim Shilling, four-letter athlete at Tulsa Central, and now the property of Milwaukee; Hugh Alexander, a Seminole boy who will play for Springfield of the Middle Atlantic League this season, and Martin Brown, who has signed with Opelousas of the Evangeline League, are youngsters who were started in pro ball by Bailey. All are good prospects. Bailey thinks Alexander has the best chance to develop into a big leaguer. He is an outfielder and hit .348 for Fargo in the Northern loop last season. He's 20 years old. Shilling is an outfielder and Brown a catcher and outfielder.

What is Bailey's ambition? Why, to discover a Bob Feller, of course. But he'd be satisfied if he could dig up a new Carl Hubbell or even a Hornsby. Well, Hubbell, Cy Blanton, Pepper

Martin, the poison Waner brothers, Hornsby, and even Dizzy Dean (who has retired from baseball?), all hailed from this general sector. There may be more like them in our bushes waiting to be discovered.

Editor Browning Goes to Press— Despite Flood

AND THE WINDS blew with ever increasing force. And the rain fell in ever greater torrents. And the river rose ever higher. And the plant of Ferd Browning's Wetzel Republican, at New Martinsville, W.Va., was inundated again in this year's flood as it was in the flood of last year. But in accord with the best traditions of his profession, West Virginia Beta's Ferd Browning went to press during this year's flood, even as he had done on a similar occasion last year.

There's a bit of real newspaper drama behind that achievement. Dave Jacobs of the Morgantown Post staff realizes its full dramatic possibilities in his stirring account of it:

It is tough enough to be a reporter covering a flood even when you can get back to your high and dry office or to some telegraph office that is out of the water to write your story.

You ride in boats until it is weeks before you can go to sleep nights without feeling like the bed is rocking with the waves.

You tramp around in hip boots till you can't get them off. You get "boot feet" so that when you finally are able to pull off the boots it feels like they're still on.

If you're lucky you won't get wet any higher than the waist, that is, if it isn't raining.

You lose track of time and you forget all about eating. You're hungry and you don't know it. You're thirsty but it's safer to drink something besides water. But you've got a job to do. So you do with a minimum of liquid nourishment.

Consider, then, the plight of Ferd Browning, Jr., editor of the inundated Wetzel Republican at New Martinsville. What with being a healthy young man who can weather such punishment much better than the average flood refugee, Mr. Browning is not one to be asking that sympathy be wasted upon his currently Ohio mud spattered countenance.

During the past five days, Ferd has had not only the difficulties enumerated above to encounter, but since Friday water has been in the Republican's plant. Yesterday it was near the ceiling and rising. Today they are talking about moving the equipment cached on the second floor to the third. It was safe on the second during last March's inundation.

It is the second time since he went to New Martinsville that Browning has seen water soar to near the ceiling of his office. And it is safe to say that more than once during the floods he has wished his aching limbs once more were plunked under the telegraph desk of The Post, where for several years he reigned as telegraph editor.

Last year the flood, although discouraging because the Republican had just completed setting up a new plant with considerable new equipment, was something of an innovation. This year it's a grind and a great big headache for the former Morgantowner because he knows what's to come in the cleaning up process of shoveling out several feet of sticky mud, repainting, and reconditioning damaged machinery after the water recedes.

Despite the floods, the Republican has never missed an edition, while the opposition newspaper, the Wetzel Democrat, which has its press and linotype machines permanently above the high water mark, had to suspend during last year's inundation and doesn't plan to publish this week. Through the cooperation of The Post, the Republican was able to make its scheduled appearances during the 1936 flood. The same arrangement will enable it to publish this week.

In common with other New Martinsville residents, Browning watched river reports anxiously last week. The situation did not appear to be threatening when the paper was "put to bed" last Thursday night, but early Friday the warning came and the editor had to rouse out his staff and call for assistance to start the moving process.

Working with all speed, office equipment was taken upstairs. Movable parts on the press and linotypes were stripped off and removed to the same refuge. The plant was cleaned bare of everything that was not too heavy to be manned, the last piece going out as the water lapped at the front steps late Friday afternoon. The workers were barely able to get away from the plant to higher ground in boots after completing the task.

Plate glass windows in the front, like plate glass all over the business section, had been boarded up. The front door was left open. Ordinary windows were unlocked and left closed. The water will leave them wide open when it goes down. The front door will be swollen so badly that it won't close, but it is better that way than to have it swollen shut. Floors will have buckled and spread. Everything will be covered with a gluey mud that won't come off without scrubbing.

Saturday the water climbed. Sunday it climbed. Monday it climbed. There was no encouragement for today.

His own equipment stowed away as safely as possible, Browning and his staff, in common with everybody else in the town in similar circumstances, laid to the job of aiding those less fortunate. The fluctuating nature of the river forecasts fooled many people, even the old residents who have been through many floods. Some of them didn't move upstairs until late Sunday. Then the work had to be done in great haste.

Yesterday to Morgantown came a request for food. "Send us some bread and butter and some canned meat and vegetables; and, above all, some coffee and milk," was the message. The supplies went forward. Today, preparations were being made to take a truckload of foodstuffs.

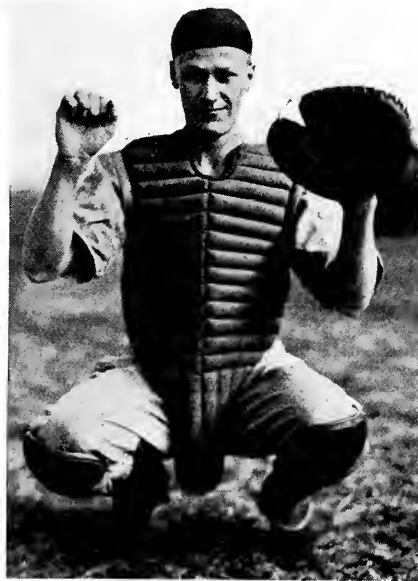

Ferd not only has done a good job of assisting his fellow New Martinsville flood sufferers in this disaster, but he has "stuck to his knitting" as a newspaperman. By publishing his paper this week as usual, he will give the town its only local news of the period, and by working with Post photographers in rain, snow, mud, hip-deep water, and from precarious perches on boats and buildings he has recorded a complete pictorial story of the flood.

paign and promises "a vigorous State-wide campaign."

Indications of some of the policies to be discussed in that campaign are to be had from the following statement which Senator Page gave to the March 4 Richmond Times-Dispatch:

He said he would "of course, favor the policies which have from time immemorial been set forth by candidates in a general way, such as adequate appropriations for the maintenance of State government with maximum efficient service, sound fiscal policies, conservation and development of natural resources, and advancement of the education system.

"But, in addition to favoring the general policies," he said, "I favor definite action."

Mr. Page said he advocated "substantial relief for the aged" who are unable to care for themselves and meant "to find a way to provide the necessary finances to meet this situation."

"Our school teachers in a great many instances do not receive pay commensurate with the services rendered and the training necessary," he said, "I will work to the end that this situation is remedied."

"There is no provision for taking care of aged or infirm employees of the State. I will work for proper legislation setting up a system of pensions for State employees.

"Our jail system is archaic and deplorable, the method of pay of jailers is barbaric. Immediate change of the system is necessary and the abolishment of the system that requires a jailer and sheriff to starve his prisoners in order to receive his pay should be supplanted by adequate compensation independent of the feeding of prisoners."

the State Jail-Study Commission, of which he is chairman, said as "time goes on, I will deal directly with matters in which the citizens of the State are interested, as they arise."

He said his campaign would be based on his experience in the State Legislature, in which he has served, in the two houses, since 1923.

"Not only will I rely upon the length of time that I have served the State but also upon accomplishments as shown by my record," he said. "Through my tenure of office I have had the opportunity to learn the fundamentals of State government, the workings of the Legislature and parliamentary procedure, all of which are necessary to fulfill the office to which I aspire."

Harold Joseph McGinley, Kansas Beta

COLORFUL and eventful has been the comparatively brief career of Kansas Beta's Harold J. McGinley, Doctor of Veterinary Surgery turned crack insurance salesman.

To begin with, his birth in Quincy, Ill., on August 31, 1899, was followed shortly by an eight hundred mile trek by covered wagon to a half-section of land near Rogers, Ark., where he attended grade and high school, being graduated from the last named in 1916.

McGINLEY

The same year he matriculated at the University of Arkansas "to get away bein' a 'hill billy,' and get some smartness," as he puts it.

Then came the war, and Mac, as he had come to be called, enlisted in the Army, training at Fort Logan H. Roots at Little Rock. He was sent to France only to be assigned to a Detached Unit as Bayonet Instructor. But the war was soon over, and Mac came home a Second Lieutenant, and without having bayoneted a single enemy!

In 1919 he matriculated at Kansas State, was initiated into Kansas Alpha of which he became president, in time serving, as well, as president of the campus Interfraternity Council.

Graduated with the degree of D.V.S. in 1922, he joined the staff of Armour & Co., being stationed at Enid, Okla.

Then he was sold an insurance policy. It looked easy, so easy, that he resigned his Armour position, and became the Enid representative of the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey Insurance Company. He's been writing the company's policies in ever increasing quantities and amounts ever since, first in Enid, later in Oklahoma City where he is now located.

He is a member of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce; a licensed life member of the National Underwriter's Association, and past director and present vice-president of the Oklahoma City Alumni chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

McGinley married Phillomine Gottschall, December 22, 1932. There are three fine daughters—Nancy Ann, Pat, and Martha Joe.

Kerr Joins Randolph-Macon Academy Faculty

CAPTAIN H. Drewry Kerr, of Ashland, Va., has joined the staff of Randolph-Macon Academy.

Said the student paper in commenting on Captain Kerr's affiliation with the Academy:

The school is very fortunate in having a new addition made to the faculty in the person of Captain H. Drewry Kerr, of Ashland, Virginia, who has just made his affiliations with the Academy. A native of Ashland, Captain Kerr attended Randolph-Macon College where his interest in scholastic and extracurricular activities made him a leader in the student body. Besides having taken part in the production of the annual and weekly publication of his Alma Mater, Captain Kerr is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities.

The Corps and Faculty welcome Captain Kerr and wish him the greatest success in his new responsibilities.

With the Alumni

Chicago

IN KEEPING with the success which smiles upon all Chicago Alumni affairs this year, sixty-five couples enjoyed an evening of dancing, merriment and general good fellowship at the Hinsdale club Saturday, March 20. The party, known as the Sig Ep Circus, was the first of what is hoped will be an annual affair.

Irv Highland, Wis. Beta, chairman, who was assisted by Palmer Boothby, Mich. Alpha, and Ray Thurman, Ky. Alpha, planned the party with unusual foresight. The Hinsdale club, of which Boothby is a member, is located in Hinsdale, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. The facilities of the club were exclusively turned over to Sig Eps and their guests. Besides dancing and the many games played under the leadership of Master of Ceremonies Ray Thurman, movies were taken which will be shown at the May Shindig, the annual stag party. The wives and sweethearts will have to wait until next year's circus to see these shots, at which time additional pictures will be made—thus the beginning of a new type of a Sig Ep library. In addition to these many activities, ping-pong, billiards and pool were also enjoyed during intermission.

Gene Scherman, Ill. Alpha, buyer of Marshall Field's fine chinaware, spoke at the regular March meeting, Tuesday, March 16. Brother Scherman brought samples valued at thousands of dollars to illustrate his extremely interesting half-hour talk.

President R. W. Spencer, Neb. Alpha, has appointed the following committees which will report at the regular April meeting: Nominations, Ray Thurman, chairman; Mal Davis, Al Gehlbach; May Shindig, Evans Plummer, chairman; Stan Fairweather, Arthur G. von Plachecki, E. A. Curry; Directory, Rod Harrison, chairman, E. B. Boston, Earl C. Janson, James T. Nickolson.

Chairman Plummer promises the best Shindig ever. All Sig Eps in the Chicago territory are urged to get in touch with the association and make arrangements to attend this annual party.

Secretary Harrison proudly points out that the active roll now numbers 85 men. As chairman of the Directory committee, he hopes to develop a complete catalogue of members in the Chicago area. The following information will be contained in this directory: Name, chapter, year, business connection, business address and telephone and residence address and telephone. Sig Eps who live in or around Chicago are requested to contact R. D.

Harrison at the Lawson Y.M.C.A., Chicago Ave. at Dearborn, in order that the information may be complete and correct for every member.

Cleveland

DEAR FRATERNITY:

March 21st, 1937

You know, fella, this is the last news letter I'll get to write you before the Conclave in September so I want to reel off a few items about some of the lads you'll meet in Cleveland-town when you're here for the biggest Sig Ep rally ever.

I can't resist telling you about Max Steen and his trick shoulder-blade; you know he's the only Alumni President we ever had who succeeded in knocking himself out whilst drying himself with a bath towel. It all happened while Max was taking a hurried bath that he slipped on a cake of soap, broke his nose, threw his shoulder blade out of place, and generally and completely rendered himself hors-de-combat . . . and now the climax comes when he again slips—this time on a piece of ice—and throws out that floating shoulder-blade. Really, you'll want to come to the Great Lakes Conclave if for no other reason than to see Der Maxie.

Then there's Phil Porter news editor and ace political writer for the Plain Dealer; you've seen his column, "The Inside of the News in Cleveland." He'll be on hand, though he does have a habit of running off to far places now and then. For instance, last summer he went to Europe ostensibly to write some special foreign news articles, but actually to sample some real German beer. You know those Ohio Gamma boys . . . or don't you?

Another Ohio Gamma lad who'll make your Conclave visit more pleasant is Morrie Phillips, president of the Lakewood Board of Education, who says he really means it when he sings: "I'm through with politics" . . . Bob Leonardson is another Lakewoodite who will be on hand to greet you. He's a great baseball fan, so maybe you can get him to take you out to see the Cleveland Indians play.

Brother Frank Davern is with the General Electric Co., but always finds time to attend our banquets, the last one of which was held at the University club in March. . . . Syd Speed is a younger brother you will want to meet, and he too was in attendance at our banquet. Speaking of the banquet reminds me that one of the high spots of the evening was the mock wedding conducted by Nels Carran for the benefit of Brother Johnny

Rowland, who was about to take the marriage vow—it was a wow. By special messenger I have just learned that Johnny has actually stepped off the brink and is now a married gent. This banquet featured a talk by Brother Jay Taggart, of Ohio Alpha. He's an attorney-at-law practicing downtown, and gave a splendid address on, "If Washington Lived Today."

Ohio Alpha was also represented at the banquet by Steve Kormandy, who is practicing law . . . and not politics. But big Bob Chamberlain of Michigan Alpha has gotten himself a lot of newspaper space recently on account of his appointment as assistant to Elliott Ness, former G-man who has made such a big hit here in Cleveland as Safety Director.

Did I tell you that "Rog" Peckinpaugh is learning to be a ship broker . . . funny thing . . . that rhymes with strip poker, but of course no one cares. . . . Naturally there are a lot more lads I like to tell you about, but what I'm trying to get across is that if you'll just pack your grip and your cares for those three days, September 2, 3, and 4, and come to Cleveland, I can assure you that every Cleveland brother will go out of his way to help you have a good time. Sit down and write me a letter and tell me what train you'll be in on . . . and we'll have the Mayor and a band out to greet you.

Your old pal,

CHALMER F. LUTZ, Secretary

Denver

MONTHLY bridge parties head the winter list of Denver Alumni Sig Ep activities. The first party given at the home of Brother and Mrs. E. V. Dunklee was well attended as was the second held at the palatial country mansion of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Linninger.

The Denver University Chapter, Colorado Beta, royally entertained the alumni group on March 3, last, and the chapter was much richer for the event and the alumni enjoyed the experience.

Brother Charles Patch is the busiest Sig Ep in the District and a most willing one. Brother Patch has arranged for visits to each chapter in the state by the Denver alumni and is now planning a spring get-together for all chapters with a combined District dance and softball tournament. The alumni group has laid in six gallons of liniment in preparation.

Brother Ray Weaver, president of the Denver group, is planning an Elitch Theater Benefit during the summer so that funds may be obtained to send three or more delegates to the National Conclave at Cleveland.

Our group has enjoyed the many visits of Brother Freeark and have voted him into active membership. Now all he needs to do is to pay his dues promptly and quit associating with the traffic cops of Denver so assiduously.

Our group has taken real interest in the work of Brother Mark Wilkins in his alumni group activity study. A closer touch with the National Headquarters might bring about an alumni interchange of ideas for the good of both the active and alumni order.

The Denver alumni were saddened by the tragic death of Brother Oliver Milliken who was shot and killed, together with two others by a crazed relief seeker in the Denver offices of the State Relief Bureau. Brother Milliken was a competent member of the relief staff and his death cuts short a promising career in social work.

And with the Spring number may the Denver Alumni Chapter present its congratulations and best wishes for success to all of the graduating members of our Order.

STEVENS PARK KINNEY, Secretary

Oklahoma City

WE HOLD our alumni meetings the second and fourth Mondays in each month at the Y.M.C.A., where luncheon is served.

We had a bridge party about a month ago at Duke Ewing's.

FRANK W. JONES, Secretary

Puget Sound

IN A MARKED revival of alumni interest some thirty-odd alums braved a severe snowstorm on January 27 to dine with the actives at Washington Beta chapter house and hold the first of what is hoped to be a long and successful series of monthly evening meetings. These will supplement the weekly Friday luncheons at Helen Swope's where attendance is always limited to those in the downtown area. Elected to head the alumni chapter for the ensuing year were the following: Dick Olson, president, Bev Travis, vice-president, Edwin Scotton, secretary and treasurer, Jack Macfadyen, guard, Bob Briggs and Bob Dignon, marshals, and Ralph Brandt, historian.

Tardy alums were Dow Tinker and Fred Crowl who announced that they had just added to secular and celestial blessings those of the chapter at the nuptials of Delwyn Muller, last year's house president, and Miss Janet Riggs.

The alumni chapter was well represented at formal initiation on Sunday, January 31. Officiating at the ceremonies were alums Frank Hamack, Ed Scotton and Bev Travis. Initiate Frank Hamack, Jr., made chapter history as the first Sig Ep son at Washington Beta.

There was a small but gratifying increase in attendance at the meeting of February 23. Cuisine and company at these evening meetings leave little to be desired and augur well for their continued popularity. Some time was given to discussion of future alumni activities. Dow Tinker was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee, and Bob Bale to foster and promote alumni co-operation with the active chapter.

RALPH BRANDT, Historian

Raleigh

INITIAL MEETING of the newly organized Raleigh Alumni Association was a dinner-meeting at the Hotel Carolina, February 26, with Major K. G. Althaus of the State College faculty presiding as temporary chairman.

Elected to the association's offices were: Major K. G. Althaus, Ala. Alpha, president; R. D. Beam, N.C. Beta, vice-president; J. S. Massenburg, N.C. Delta, secretary; and B. Moore Parker, N.C. Delta, treasurer.

In addition to the officers, there were present: Ralph L. Parker, N.C. Beta, '37; Roney M. High, N.C. Beta, '14; John M. Strong, N.C. Delta, '26; James B. Little, N.C. Delta, '32; Donald S. Kinney, N.C. Delta, '34; M. H. Miller, N.C. Beta, '36; W. Herbert Jackson, Fla. Alpha, '28; Harold Weaver, N.C. Beta, '28; J. A. Harris, N.C. Gamma, '30; Hugh G. Isley, N.C. Gamma, '15; and F. James Barnes, II, Va. Delta, '27.

The association's officers were constituted a committee on enrollment. As a result of their efforts the association's roll has been subsequently increased by the addition of the names of Ivan Proctor, Va. Zeta; J. C. Pittman, N.C. Delta; Thos. A. Banks, N.C. Gamma; J. Frank Freeze, Jr., N.C. Beta; Thornwell Gaines, N.C. Beta; J. Mark Boone, N.C. Beta; Harry Tucker, N.C. Beta; L. M. Phelps, N. C. Beta; Willis Smith, N.C. Gamma; C. W. Norman, N. C. Beta; Thos. L. Creekmoore, D.C. Alpha; R. W. Edwards, Va. Eta; J. J. Quinn, N.C. Delta; John Gatling, N.C. Beta; and Garrett Anderson.

Next proposed major function is a party for and with the active chapter at North Carolina State.

J. S. MASSENBURG, Secretary

St. Louis

PLEASE, OH PLEASE, Brother Barnes, hold the presses. Forgive and forget that this is a few days late, and print it—as a personal favor to me if for no other reason. You see, if this doesn't get in, the brothers for miles around will be on my neck like so many matched pearls. They are all cinema sensations when it comes to demanding their lion's share of publicity.

Of course, they feel that they have something to rave about. For instance, if you can remember as far back as January, I said that Mr. Neuman, Ace G-Man, would address our dinner meeting. Boy, did he ever. He made quite an impression. Bobby Fahey has been standing under carpets ever since, waiting to jump out at some one with a cry of "You're under arrest." The one trouble is, he can't figure out what to do after the blood-curdling cry. He's not a policeman. And Bob Winter went right out and bought a cute G-Man Sweat-Shirt with J. Edgar Hoover's signature on the back. Personally, I think he's clue-clue. About 65 attended the meeting. (Moral: when meeting the Department of Justice, there's safety in numbers.)

February 27 was the Annual Heart Dinner Dance. Cast your tired eyes at Exhibit Number I, and rest them on the array of beauty that the boys brought out. Breath-taking, what? The main dining room of the University Club was the place, and we almost hit the century mark for dinner. No, wise guys, we didn't have century steak, it was chicken. By the time the dance got going, the crowd had grown to about 125. That was at 10:00 P.M., and only the beginning. While I lack the artistry necessary to describe the affair, I can show you the tempo. At 12:30 A.M., Walt Hellmich stood up and got a terrific bump on the head—he didn't know he was under a table. At 1:00 A.M., Fred Perabo decided to go apartment hunting, instead of waiting till Sunday afternoon, as planned. No particular reason—he just felt like it. The prize—about 1:30, Fred Judell and Carl Beckers decided that poor old George Engel was just too, too unlucky to have missed the dance, so they would call up and console him. They only got to make one remark, "Why aren't you down here, George,—washing your car?" George hung up with some little appropriate quip. Some people just haven't any sense of humor.

This month (March 22), we had secured Dr. R. Emmett Kane, President of the St. Louis Medical Society, to address our meeting. Unfortunately, Dr. Kane's professional duties made it impossible to be with us, so we had to take a rain-check on his appearance. It did, however, furnish us with an opportunity to discuss at length and settle several important matters of business.

Next month is baseball meeting. Our re-awakened St. Louis Browns open their American League foray on April 20. On Monday the 19th, we're going to have some of them out at our meeting to let us know what to expect in the new campaign. We'll try to get the Rajah, Mr. Hornsby himself, if at all possible. As an added feature, we will hold the drawings in our annual baseball pool, operated along lines similar to the Irish Sweeps. (No, Junior, we don't make as much money.)

Before I close, Jimmy, let me tell you about our luncheon contests. Hank Miller and Fred Judell captain respectively (not respectfully) the Sit-downers and the Scabs. We run on a percentage of attendance basis, with points for bringing in the otherwise not-so-regular brothers. Every month, the winning team gets a free lunch for all, the expense divided between the losers and the treasury. (Treasurer please note.) We hope to increase our average attendance from about 22 to 30.

We have a Conclave Savings club now, with pass-books 'n'ever'thing, which we hope will encourage the boys to save for a worthy cause. We're planning a golf tournament and a summer boat ride as usual.

To go back to my original plaint, please get this in somehow, even if you have to write it in longhand in all copies over the Balfour ad on the back. You wouldn't put a pal in the dog-house with the rainy season just coming on, would you?

Anxiously,

WOODRUFF G. MARSALEK, Secretary

Topeka

THE Topeka Alumni chapter has started the ball rolling with plans for its 1937 annual Tri-Chapter stag party. Emil Von Riesen, Kan. Beta, has been placed in general charge of arrangements.

Tulsa

ON January 15, our alumni group met in the Hotel Tulsa to elect its officers for this year. Clyde Winterringer was elected president; John R. Evans, vice-president; L. E. Elkins, secretary and treasurer; Kavanaugh Bush and J. W. Hemphill, marshals, and Joe Haines, guard.

After a short business meeting, Mr. King of one of the local fraternal organizations gave a brief talk on the organization and status of their group on the University of Tulsa campus. The subject of his remarks was centered around the potential possibilities of his organization petitioning membership in a national fraternity.

After this part of the meeting was over, everyone entered into an evening of good fellowship. After about four hours of very interesting entertainment, the newly-elected vice-president obtained a monopoly on the situation and one by one sent his straggling opponents on their wayward journey home.

On March 8, the second meeting of the year was held at the University club. Plans were formulated for a weekend party and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. There was considerable favor toward having a spring rush party for possible rushees in this territory. Nothing was decided; however, definite plans will be made at our next monthly meeting.

Regular monthly meetings are held on the first Monday night of each month. No definite meeting place has been established.

We always have our weekly noon luncheon at the Michaelis Cafeteria No. 1 at 507 S. Boulder each Monday. Our number in attendance recently has averaged from fifteen to twenty members.

Since our last alumni report, Mr. Bob Fry of Okla. Alpha was blessed with a darling little baby girl. He admits that he has not contributed to the growth of the Fraternity, but that—ah—well, I hope! I hope! I hope!

And, yes, Mr. Larkin Bailey of Calif. Alpha has been made a scout for the St. Louis Browns. He will continue with his duties in his abstract office in Tulsa during the week and make weekend trips into various parts of this area searching for baseball talent.

John T. Barr, Neb. Alpha, and formerly active in the Denver alumni group, is now working for Firestone in Tulsa. Fisherman Barr and his worthy companion, George Davis, Okla. Alpha, presented a brief but complete and conclusive discussion at our last weekly luncheon on "How Not to Fish in Lake Spavinaw." Everyone at the meeting was deeply impressed with the worthy advice from such an experienced pair.

New members in our group of recent appearance are: Bill Stenile, Kan. Alpha; George Spurgin, Okla. Alpha; Bill Edmonds, Okla. Alpha; M. S. Carselowey, Mo. Alpha; Frank E. Wilson, Mo. Alpha; J. W. Schiffler, Colo. Delta.

L. E. ELKINS, Secretary

Twin Cities

TWIN CITIES ALUMNI joined Minn. Alpha in conducting a successful winter rushing season resulting in January pledging of five men. Both alums and actives combined again to entertain the pledges on January 30 in a pledge party at the chapter house with active member Gordon Spratt in charge of arrangements.

On February 2 an informal alumni conference on finances took place at the chapter house and was attended by alumni Gerry Sonnesyn, Jim Wood, Lyn Cedarblade, Don Kanne, Carroll Patton, Bob Davis, Neal Miley, Jack Davidson, Sam Campbell, Wilson Gould, Bob Sullivan, and Earl Isensee. Plans for continued alumni activities were discussed with particular emphasis on the 1937 Homecoming banquet.

Alumni Lyn Cedarblade, Bill Skinner, Don Kanne, Chuck Hoover, Wilson Gould, Al Ebert, Neal Miley, and Harley Brooke were on hand at the chapter house February 23 to assist with the initiation of Woodrow Turner of Minneapolis, Howard Gustafson of Minneapolis, and Niles Brooke of Eau Claire, Wis.

The weekly luncheons held every Wednesday in the Rand Tower Basement continue to be popular especially with alums from out of town who frequently are in the Twin Cities on business.

Remy Hudson's Razzle Dazzle, the alumni chapter's monthly news letter, continues to find a receptive group of Minn. Alpha alumni readers.

BOB DAVIS, Secretary

Family Doubled Overnight!

TWIN GIRLS

Born to Mickey McBride

"Here's another," said Doc Kimzey.

Mickey McBride groaned and grew ashen pale. Then he sensed the real significance of the situation and smiled his gleeful satisfaction.

"Aha," cried Mickey, "I've already caught up with Doc Johnson, Glenn Glover and Wes Jonas and I'm only half a step behind the immortal Jim Roberts. Let them kid me if they will, but this is a real accomplishment. Won't Howard Greer be envious?"

As the two little feminine bundles of joy were placed in the arms of their nervous father he wondered what he had done to deserve such a shower of blessings. His pride turned to awe as he remembered that now he must purchase two cigars for each of his friends instead of one. And that box of sanitary diapers that the Goodfellowship club had given him. There must now be another box. But perhaps some other organization would remember him.

The happy event occurred at the Colfax hospital just before midnight Friday. The first youngster, weighing 5 pounds 10 ounces, made her appearance at 11:45, followed just 10 minutes later by the second, which weighed two ounces less. The girls have been named "Cutie" and "Tweetie" by their admiring doctor.

Cigars for everybody at the White Drug Store, 121 Main street, or just phone 126 and Papa McBride will deliver them to you.

Papa McBride is the Ralph McBride of Sigma Phi Epsilon, State College of Washington graduate of 1930, B.A.

The mother was Olga Benson, of Alpha Chi Omega, State College of Washington, 1926-27.

To Mr. and Mrs. Maurice M. Felger, Indiana Beta, a daughter, Gretchen Ann, March 1, 1937.

To Mr. and Mrs. John McGinnis, Colorado Gamma, a son, Michael John, December 27, 1936, at Craig, Colo.

To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peck, Colorado Gamma, '35, a son, Ellis Ray, January 18, 1937, at Meeker, Colo.

To Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vernon Altvater, Colorado Alpha, a daughter, Katherine Barrick.

To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Carson, Jr., Louisiana Alpha, a daughter.

To Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinett, Louisiana Alpha, a son.

To Mr. and Mrs. Samuel K. McKee, Jr., Virginia Alpha, '25, a son, Samuel Kerr, III, March 2, 1937.
